UNHCR
The UN Refugee Agency

Refugee Emergency Telecommunications Sector (RETS)

In situations where people have been forced to flee, RETS provides

VITAL COMMUNICATIONS TO

UNHCR

UNHCR partners

The extended humanitarian community

RETS is the mechanism through which UNHCR coordinates the communications technology response in refugee emergencies.

Refugees escaping ethnic violence in the Kasai Region of Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC)

Refugees fleeing violence, political instability and famine in South Sudan

Louva
Dundo

ANGOLA

Moyo
Palabek
Bidibidi
Kitgum
Yumbe
Palorinya
Imvepi
Rhino

UGANDA

SERVICES AVAILABLE

Coordination | Internet | User Support

SERVICES AVAILABLE

Coordination | Internet | Security Comms | User Support

60+

250+

SERVICE USERS

46,692

from DRC in Angola
Source : data.unhcr.org 1 Sep 2017

1,006,779

REFUGEES

from South Sudan in Uganda
Source: data.unhcr.org 17 Aug 2017

As of 12 September 2017

For more information about RETS, contact the Division of Information Systems & Telecommunications (DIST)

Nizar Zeidan
ICT Emergency Coordinator
zeidan@unhcr.org

Mariko Hall
Communications Officer
hallma@unhcr.org